FRIENDS,

The Mortgage Bankers Association continues to be among the most sophisticated and effective trade associations in Washington, DC and that is in no small part because of your continued support of MORPAC, MBA's political action committee.

I am proud to announce that, due to your support, 2015 was MORPAC's biggest year yet. With that in mind, I am pleased to present the 2015 MORPAC Year-End Report.

In 2015 we raised a record breaking $1,012,881 in individual donations, outpacing our previous one-year record by over $260,000. Together we have managed to add nearly 1,000 new MORPAC contributors, and our average contribution increased to $244 from roughly $208 per person in 2014.

We continue to increase our grassroots reach as well. The Mortgage Action Alliance (MAA) currently enjoys over 11,300 active members and this year we launched MBA's new Action Center, making it easier than ever for MAA members to participate in our advocacy programs. Under the leadership of MAA Chairman Fowler Williams, we are on pace to continue MAA's growth in 2016.

This report lists all of the individuals and companies who were part of our 2015 campaign. In addition, you'll find itemized information about the goals our political programs achieved, and a comprehensive summary of MBA's advocacy team's legislative and political priorities.

I appreciate and thank you for your dedication to MBA, MORPAC and our collective public policy goals.

Respectfully submitted,

Jamie Korus
President, Alliance Home Loans
2015–2016 MORPAC Chairman

Mortgage Action Alliance (MAA)

As of this writing, with more than 11,000 active MAA members, we remain on a trajectory to reach our year-end goal of 12,500.

We have sent 14 Calls to Action (CTA) to MAA members this year on a broad array of issues. Our CTA member response rate remains at roughly 12 percent.

FUNDRAISING METRICS

As of June 30, 2015

MORPAC raised

$1,012,881

IN HARD DOLLARS IN 2015 ALONE — $260,000 MORE THAN WE'VE EVER RAISED IN A SINGLE YEAR.

MORPAC hosted three individual fundraisers this year in conjunction with major MBA conferences. In February, MORPAC hosted an event for Senate Banking Committee member Senator Jerry Moran (R-KS) at MBA's CREF conference. The event raised over $23,000 for the Senator's re-election. MORPAC raised over $25,000 for Rep. Patrick McHenry (R-NC) during MBA's Secondary and Capital Markets conference in May. In September, MORPAC also raised over $50,000 for Senate Banking Chairman Richard Shelby (R-AL).

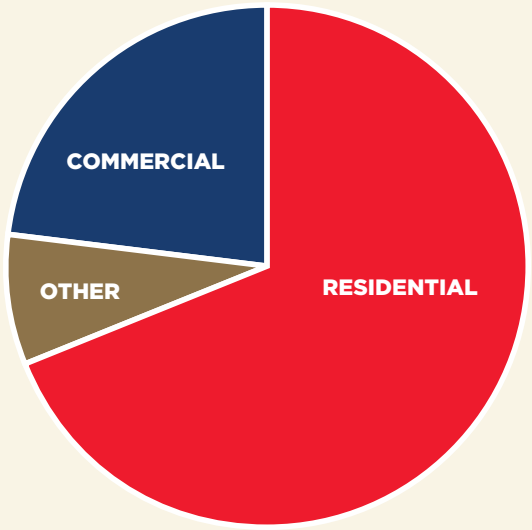
2015 MORPAC dollars have come from all areas of the industry:



LEGISLATIVE AND POLITICAL UPDATE

MBA had numerous legislative and political successes in 2015, ranging from favorable items included in Senate Banking Committee-passed regulatory relief legislation, to support the introduction of bills that address SAFE Act-related concerns and the FHFA's FHLB membership rule, to the biggest single individual year in MORPAC history. MBA rounded out 2015 by defeating an attempt to use GSE guaranty-fees ("g-fees") to fund a multi-year highway reauthorization bill and by securing several tax/appropriations priorities in the year-end omnibus and tax package.

While 2015 was dominated by legislative activity, the 2016 agenda will be consumed by election-year politics. Against this backdrop, the House and Senate will continue to focus on dialogue related to Dodd-Frank reforms and financial sector reg relief — though enactment of legislation will remain challenging in the face of the administration's ongoing opposition to reopening the 2010 law. And there may will be fresh discussion of incremental reforms to the secondary mortgage market, while a transition to a new housing finance system will most likely have to wait until 2017 and beyond.

Regulatory Relief Legislation

Senate Banking Committee ("SBC") Chairman Shelby's regulatory relief proposal, S.1484, remained stalled in the Senate since its party-line full Banking Committee passage in May. The legislation contains a number of MBA priorities on issues ranging from GSE transition steps to QM lending standards, FHFA's FHLB membership rule, TRID enforcement and preferred SAFE Act amendments. Given the current election year politics, Chairman Shelby recently indicated that his bill may not see floor time until after his March primary election, or, more likely, a predicted post-election lame duck session in November/December.

Omnibus Appropriations and Tax Package

In December, Congress passed (and the President signed into law) H.R. 2029, an omnibus Fiscal Year 2016 funding bill, coupled with a surprisingly broad tax "extenders" package. This so-called "taxibus" contained a number of items impacting the industry, including several tax priorities, various FHA provisions, and a prohibition on the sale of shares of GSE preferred stock without Congressional approval. The "taxibus" specifics are outlined in more detail below.

Tax Extenders

As noted above, the package contained several of MBA's tax priorities, including:

- A permanent extension of the minimum 9% Low-Income Housing Tax Credit rate for new construction and substantial rehabilitation. While the bill does not establish a minimum, 4 percent credit rate for acquisition, we will continue working with Congress to permanently extend this important LIHTC provision.

- An extension of the deductibility of mortgage insurance premiums for an additional two years, for tax years 2015 and 2016.

- Continued tax relief for mortgage debt forgiveness through 2016. This will prevent homeowners from being taxed if their lender reduces their principal or their home is subject to a short sale. The provision also applies to qualified principal residence indebtedness that is discharged in 2017, if the discharge is pursuant to a written agreement entered into in 2016.

- Two key provisions specifically related to Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), one which places restrictions on tax-free spinoffs involving REITs and a second, which reduces the percentage limitation on assets of a REIT which may be taxable REIT subsidiaries.

HUD Appropriations

The year-end bill also contains several housing-related appropriations provisions:

- For the second year in a row, Congress rejected HUD's request to fund a portion of FHA's administrative costs through a fee on residential lenders who use the program.

- $375 million for salaries and expenses at FHA, $130 million for FHA administrative contract expenses, and Ginnie Mae with $23 million for Ginnie Mae salaries and expenses.

- In response to MBA's urging for additional resources for FHA and Ginnie Mae, the bill contains volume-based incentives so that FHA could receive as much as $160 million and Ginnie Mae could receive as much as $26 million.

- HUD's full request of $30 billion in commitment authority for the General and Special Risk Insurance (GI/SRI) Fund in FY 2016. Other key funding highlights include $950 million for the HOME program and $10.2 billion for project-based Section 8.

- The legislation also maintains the statutory prohibition on the use of Ginnie Mae securitizations in HUD's risk sharing programs by Housing Finance Agencies.

- The bill bars HUD from requiring or enforcing the Physical Needs Assessment.

- Continued prohibition on federal funds being used to facilitate eminent domain seizures of performing mortgage loans.

- Under H.R. 2029, HUD will receive $47 million for housing counseling. The legislation also explicitly bars FHA from implementing the Homeowners Armed With Knowledge (HAWK) program — HUD's proposal to reduce insurance premiums for homebuyers who commit to housing counseling.

GSE Reform

We continue to believe that neither SBC Chairman Shelby nor House Financial Services Committee ("HFSC") Chairman Jeb Hensarling (R-TX) will choose to dedicate the significant amount of political capital (or time needed to build a policy consensus) necessary to advance an issue as complicated as GSE reform in an election year, so the comprehensive debate will likely remain on hold until 2017.

However, there was meaningful congressional activity related to the GSEs in 2015. President Obama signed legislation to cap the pay of the CEOs at Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac at January 1, 2015 levels, and the year-end Omnibus contained a two-year prohibition on the sale of the Treasury's preferred GSE shares absent explicit congressional authorization. In order to continue advancing our GSE policy principles, MBA orchestrated a well-attended January 25th House/Senate briefing on Capitol Hill designed to underscore the fact that thoughtful GSE reforms are more important now than ever given conservatorship and ongoing mortgage market realities.

SAFE Act Amendments

Following the introduction of H.R. 2121, the SAFE Transitional Licensing Act, in late April, we have seen a growing number of bipartisan members (38) join the bill as cosponsors. The legislation, originally introduced by Reps. Steve Stivers (R-OH), Terri Sewell (D-AL), Lynn Westmoreland (R-GA), Joyce Beatty (D-OH), Luke Messer (R-IN), Kyrsten Sinema (D-AZ), and Ed Perlmutter (D-CO) would mandate that states regulators allow MLOs transitional authority to continue originating mortgages for up to 120 days should they leave a federal depository to take a new job working for a non-bank and/or cross state lines to do so.

Given a negotiated compromise on topic with the Conference of State Bank Supervisors ("CSBS"), we remain hopeful that H.R. 2121 will be marked up in the full House Financial Services Committee early in 2016. Language identical to H.R. 2121 was included in Title I of Shelby's Senate regulatory relief package (Ranking Member Sherrod Brown's (D-OH) substitute bill contained substantially similar language).

CMBS Risk Retention

MBA is working with a coalition of sister trade groups to raise concerns regarding the implementation of the CMBS risk retention rule that was included in Title IX of Dodd- Frank. The coalition has held a number of meetings with key congressional staff to raise awareness about this issue and outline industry's concerns in an attempt to persuade members of Congress to weigh in with key regulators on the rule and possibly introduce legislation.

It is MBA's belief that the rule, as drafted, will increase borrowing costs, lead to a deterioration in credit quality, and reduce liquidity in the market. The proposed language that the coalition has drafted would allow certain low-risk commercial real estate mortgages to qualify as qualified commercial real estate (QCRE) loans, a category of loans that are exempt from the risk retention requirements given their historical performance. In particular, the language would allow for Single Borrower/Singe Credit transactions to be considered QCRE loans. We expect legislation to be introduced in the House during the first quarter of 2016.

FHFA Membership Rule

This past fall, a bipartisan group of lawmakers introduced H.R. 3808, legislation to require the withdrawal and study of the Federal Housing Finance Agency's (FHFA) proposed rule regarding Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) membership. The legislation would address a controversial FHFA rule, since finalized, that limits the ability of mortgage Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) and independent mortgage banks (IMBs) to access the FHLB system via captive insurers. MBA continues to work at increasing the number of bipartisan House cosponsors of the bill in an effort to continue to increase momentum behind the proposal. The Senate regulatory relief package contains similar language.

Housing-Related "Pay-fors"

In December, MBA worked to successfully kill a Senate conference committee proposal that would have partially paid for a proposed multi-year highway reauthorization bill via an extended increase in Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac guarantee fees. MBA's success was a direct result of months of sustained advocacy by members of the Mortgage Action Alliance, who urged Congress not to use homeowners as a piggybank for unrelated spending. After the Senate had included the g-fee increase in its initial version of the legislation, MBA successfully marshalled support for overwhelming passage of a House floor amendment to remove the g-fee "pay-for" (estimated at $2B over five years).

Flood Insurance

Senate Banking Committee members Dean Heller (R-NV) and Jon Tester (D-MT) and House Financial Services Committee members Dennis Ross (R-FL) and Patrick Murphy (D-FL) introduced the Flood Insurance Market Parity and Modernization Act in July. MBA sent letters of support for the House (H.R. 2901) and Senate bills (S. 1679) at the request of the authors.

High Volatility Commercial Real Estate Exposures

MBA, in conjunction with allied trades, has continued lobbying targeted congressional offices to discuss concerns about the Basel III treatment of high volatility commercial real estate exposures (HVCRE). HVCRE loan status requires a higher capital charge for acquisition, development and construction (ADC) loans that, among other things, have a loan-to-value ratio of greater than 80 percent and less than 15 percent equity contribution by the borrower. MBA is concerned that tight restrictions placed on ADC loans could result in the unwarranted higher capital treatment for many ADC loans, which could negatively impact bank ADC lending decisions.

MBA has also raised strong concerns with the Federal Reserve, Comptroller of the Currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and is seeking guidance from these agencies that would provide greater flexibility for the structuring of ADC loans to avoid HVCRE status. This is part of a broader strategy to raise the issue directly with Members of Congress in hopes that they will also weigh in with regulators.
